PLACING OF THE BALL AT THE TAKING OF A WICKET OR END OF A SESSION

- At the fall of a wicket or end of a session / drinks break, the player who lasted fielded the ball is responsible for placing it next to the stumps where the next over will be bowled from.
- At conclusion of a season there are two options,
  1. Fielding captain place the ball in its original box (that the ball was in at the commencement of the match) and provide it to the umpire.
  2. Umpire take(s) possession of the ball for the purpose of placing it in its original box, however must be wearing gloves to do so.

TRANSFERRING THE BALL AT THE COMPLETION OF AN OVER TO A NEW BOWLER

The bowler is responsible for the storage and collection of the material from this area. Should the ball strike this equipment during play, the ball shall be called dead, as normally this material would not be stored in this area;
